Dear Educator,

This summer Florida State University will be sponsoring Saturday-at-the-Sea Summer Day Camps (SATS Camp). This program introduces middle school students to experimental marine biology. These camps are funded by the Office of STEM Teaching Activities at Florida State University. Each camp will include up to 12 students with instructors and teachers. To be eligible, students must be Florida residents, able to swim and currently enrolled in 6th, 7th or 8th grade.

As a science teacher, your role is very important to this program. Please nominate five of your students. We are not just looking for your best and brightest students, but also those who need encouragement to develop enthusiasm for science. We are looking for a diverse, inquisitive group of students who will benefit from SATS Camp. You are the best judge of this, so we appreciate your help!

You will need to fill out a student nomination form for each student. Additionally, each camp nominee needs a Student/Parent Application that must be completed by the student nominee with their parents or guardians. These forms are due back to you by Monday 2 May 2022. Nominees are asked to write a brief essay explaining their reasons for wanting to attend SATS Camp. Final selection will be based on the information you, the student and their family provide.

For a nomination to be considered, the entire application must be postmarked or emailed by 6 May 2022 (please email wmtturner@fsu.edu if you need more time). Our preference for application submission is email. If you mail the document, please follow up with an email so we can make sure we receive your application. Applications must be sent to one of the following:

Dear Parent/Guardian of a Saturday-at-the-Sea Summer Camp Nominee:

Your child has been nominated by their science teacher to participate in a Saturday-at-the-Sea Summer Camp (SATS Camp). Our Camp teaches students about coastal ecosystems and stimulates their interest in marine biology. Our Camp is a fun and challenging introduction to this exciting field. These free, week-long day camps are funded by the Office of STEM Teaching Activities at Florida State University.

Campers will work as part of a student marine biology research team studying the Gulf Coast. During camp week, we will explore marine habitats and conduct scientific studies. On the last day of camp, the students will present their research to you, other parents and their peers. We will also require that you and your child attend a pre-camp orientation on Saturday, June 11, from 10:00 am - 12:00 pm.

To give your child the best chance at being selected to participate, please help them fill out the attached student application. Please make sure that all possible dates for participation are ranked on the application form so we can try to give you the dates that work best for you. Your child should write a 500-word essay detailing their reasons for attending SATS Camp. Return the completed application to your child's teacher as quickly as possible to ensure that the entire application packet can be returned to us on time. Students must return the student/parent portion of the application to their nominating teacher by Monday May 2 2022.

You will be notified VIA EMAIL by Friday, May 12, if your child is chosen to participate. If accepted, you will receive more details regarding the camp. If you have any questions about SATS Camp please visit our website https://www.bio.fsu.edu/osta/camp.php or email us at wmturner@fsu.edu. Hopefully, we will be meeting you and your child soon!
