First, let's look at the syllabus in detail to help clarify things.

- * I do not provide printed copies of syllabi, but they are available through my Web site:
  - * <http://www.bioinfo4u.net>
- * This is my curriculum vitae (resume). The first heading under "Experience" is my job here at SGCEP; my syllabi are all listed by course number. They come in PDF format. Let's check out yours.

And regarding participation points, here's your first in-class assignment.

- * On a plain sheet of paper legibly write:
  - * Your name, the date, the class title and number, your preferred e-mail address, and your major (if you've got one);
  - * Where you consider "home;"
  - * Previous science courses you've taken (high school, if none else); and . . .
  - * What you think both "science" and "life" is!
- * There's no right or wrong answer here; I just want your opinions. Quietly work on this for the remainder of the class. You can leave as you finish — turn them in to me as you go.
